

"M. S. M." CLOTHING

—Has Earned Its Reputation—
—As the Best Clothing

By the irresistible power of intrinsic merit. It has won a degree of favor and regard with Washington men that has built up here the greatest man's clothing business in the South.

The most powerful law of nature and commerce, too, is the "survival of the fittest," and "M. S. M." Clothing is the fittest—the best in quality—the best in tailoring—and the best in value—and it is always sold with the guarantee of

"Money's Worth or Money Back."

Here are four typical "Man's Store" values:

"M. S. M." Sack Suits,

$20.00

Swagger models—exclusive fabrics—values that are easily in the $25 class.

"M. S. M." Tuxedo Suits,

$19.75

Elegant silk-trimmed garments—honestly worth $25.

"M. S. M." Top-coats,

$13.75

Two great lines of tan covert and black thibet Top-coats—would be splendid value at $18.

"M. S. M." Rain Coats,

$15.00

Genuine Cravenette—you'll say they're worth $20.

MENACE TO MORALS

Rabbi Loeb Tells Reason for Opposing Prohibition.

QUOTES BIBLE IN SUPPORT

While an Advocate of Temperance, Denounces Agitation for Total Abstinence as Anti-Religious, Dangerous, and Demoralizing—Points Out Some Examples.

"It is a well-known fact that all over the world the Jews exercise great moderation in drinking. Habitual drunkenness is very rare among them, and they seldom appear as guests at police stations and jails. I, therefore, as a spiritual adviser of a Jewish community, need hardly assert that I am strongly in favor of temperance and detest the excessive use of alcoholic beverages.

"But to me temperance means moderation. I do not favor abstinence, and am emphatically opposed to any kind of prohibitive legislation. My reasons therefor are of a Biblical and religious character."

"This statement comprises the opinion of Rev. Dr. J. J. Loeb, former rabbi of the Adath Israel (Orthodox) Congregation, of this city, on the question of introducing prohibition in this city.

"Time and again," continued Dr. Loeb, "I have been approached on the subject by the numerous temperance associations and asked to co-operate in the movement for prohibition. My reply was always brief; it was simply to the effect that an agitation for prohibition or totalism of any sort is against my religious faith and conviction. The unrelenting and irreconcilable plan to abolish the entire use of fermented beverages appears to me to be as detrimental to public morals as it is impractical from every point of view.

Would Break Many Ties.

"It is bound to break up business intercourse and friendly relations amidst open, honest, and lawful circles of humanity. It will drive the better classes into low dives, and many a bitter soul to despondency. The Bible, which is the standard teaching of morality and civilization, repeatedly speaks in praise of wine, and fully grasps the meaning of the situation by saying: 'Give strong drink to the unhappy and wine to the embittered soul.'

"This appears in Proverbs, xxxi:6. The Bible contains innumerable references to strong drink, recommending the use of the same to despondent souls and the unhappy.

"Legislation should not, and must not, rule out the use of wine in religious and sacred ceremony, such as the sanctification of the Sabbath and solemn feasts among Jews, particularly on the Passover Eve, when every member of the Hebrew race is commanded to drink the 'four cups' of the best wine obtainable, or, on the Purim festival, and the day of the 'Booths' in the 'Law,' when drinking is not only commendable, but an imperative duty for all those who cannot be materially injured by its effects.

Judaism Prohibits Prohibition.

"Judaism positively and absolutely prohibits prohibition, as it strictly forbids asceticism and every other extreme measure. For more than thirty centuries the Jewish people drank wines and liquors, and were not worse for it in their temperance and moderation, as during all generations they had offered the best example for temperance versus abstinence. There is hardly a Jewish home where you do not find alcoholic beverages, and yet sobriety and industry are prevailing among Jews everywhere. It is therefore, but natural that the Jews as a business people, and more especially from a religious and moral standpoint, are strongly opposed to prohibition, or any legislation of a prohibitive character.

"In striving to accomplish my duty as a Jew, I must not try to go beyond human nature and the ordinary conditions of human existence. 'We must not become over-wise and righteous over-much, in just the same manner as we must not be wicked and foolish over-much.' Ecclesiastes vi:3, 4.

"The way to reform is not to prevent but to teach the proper use of things, and to prevent their abuse."

FIRST MEETING OF YEAR.

Mississippi Society Holds Session Followed by Reception.

The Mississippi Society held its first meeting of the year in the Pythian Temple, at 8 o'clock last evening. Capt. Frederick Beall gave a talk on Cuba, and Hon. Harry Peyton, assistant attorney, Department of Justice, delivered an address, after which the meeting was turned into an informal reception.

The society is composed of the Mississippians residing in the city. Meetings are held every third Saturday throughout the winter season.

Indiana Society Meeting.

The members of the Indiana Society will meet at the Elbert House next Friday night to elect officers and perfect their organization for the new year. There are nearly a thousand former Indiana people in the government service here, and they all take a keen interest in the organization. The society has given a number of interesting entertainments, and is being enthusiastically received by the membership. The members are looking forward to a more successful season than ever before in the history of their organization.

Library Association Meets.

The first meeting of the District of Columbia Library Association will be held in the lecture room of the Public Library Wednesday evening, October 23, at 8:15 o'clock. Mr. George F. Bowerman, librarian of the Public Library, will read a paper on "The system of municipal popular libraries of Paris," and Mr. Edw. Wiley, of the Library of Congress, will speak on library conditions in the South.

WITNESSES ARE PURSUED.

Goodacre Case May Be Postponed When Called Tomorrow.

On account of the failure of the district attorney to locate witnesses for the government in the case of George L. Goodacre, charged with conducting a handbook, and because the district attorney desires the consolidation of the two indictments returned against Goodacre, the trial of the latter, scheduled to begin tomorrow, may be postponed.

Several detectives were kept busy yesterday trying to locate witnesses in the case, and were they were in attendance on Connecticut Day last Wednesday, but it is said he gave satisfactory assurances he would be present when wanted.

The attorneys representing Goodacre have been notified the district attorney will call up Monday his motion to consolidate the indictments.

FOOT GUARDSMEN PAY VISIT

Old Connecticut Organizations Stop Off En Route Home.

Loud in Praise of Southern Hospitality at Jamestown—Spend the Day Here in Sightseeing.

Two hundred and fifty stalwart men, comprising the officers and rank of the First Company of the Governor's Guard, of Hartford, Conn., and the Second Company of the same organization, from New Haven, invaded Washington yesterday morning and installed themselves at the Arlington Hotel.

The companies stopped off in this city en route home from the Jamestown Exposition where they were in attendance on Connecticut Day last Wednesday. The Governor's Foot Guard is the oldest organization of its kind in the United States, the First Company having been organized in 1771 and the Second Company in 1775.

The First Company is particularly conspicuous for having performed escort duty during the war of independence for Gen. Washington, Lafayette, and Rochambeau and Admiral Boscawen, and for performing a similar duty in later years for Presidents Jackson, Polk, Johnson, Grant, Harrison, and Roosevelt. During their trip South they were the guests of the Chamber of Commerce at the Elks' Club, at Roanoke, Va., and were also entertained by Gov. Swann, of Virginia, and the Richmond Blues, of Richmond. Both companies stopped off at Luray on their way to the fair, and took in the caverns, and the First Company paid a visit to the historic battlefield at Gettysburg.

All the members of the organization were high in their praises of the reception accorded them in the South during their trip, and were enthusiastic over the ceremonies held at the fair on the day designated for the Nutmeg State.

In the absence of any plan of entertainment having been arranged for the Guard during their stay in this city, the day was spent in sightseeing. They left for home at 12 o'clock last night.

The following are the officers of the First Company: Maj. Louis R. Chaney, Capt. Fred R. Bill and Wilson L. Penn, Lieuts. Charles H. Slocum, William E. A. Baskley, and Ensign Robert R. Pease. The officers of the Second Company are Maj. Smith G. Weed, Capt. Frederick W. Brown, Lieuts. George T. Hewlett, James C. Twining, and James H. Parish, and Ensign and Adj. Albert W. Mattson.

AUDITOR'S GAS REPORT READY.

Expected He Will Present It to the Court Next Tuesday.

Auditor Payne, of the Supreme Court of the District, has finished his report on the application of the Georgetown Gaslight Company to increase its capital stock from $150,000 to $300,000, and will present it to the court some time early in the week, probably on Tuesday.

It was the auditor's intention originally to give a hearing to the attorneys representing the government on the one side and those representing the District on the other, but as each side has thirty days in which to file objections, if any, after the report has been filed with the court, the hearing was postponed for yesterday was decided as unnecessary.

WANT TIME LIMIT REMOVED

Older Board of Trade Men Seek to Retain Tried Directors.

Notice of an Amendment Repealing By-law Restricting Their Terms of Service Is Posted.

One who visits the rooms of the Board of Trade this week will find posted there a notice signed by Cuno H. Rudolph, of an amendment to the by-laws of the board repealing the limit upon the length of time directors shall serve.

It is understood that behind this notice is a movement of considerable proportions backing the proposition. Last year a limit was voted to the number of terms a member of the board of directors could serve. The amendment to the by-laws imposing this limit of service was proposed about a year ago by D. J. Callahan and adopted by the Board of Trade after a hot argumentative fight lasting through the greater part of two sessions of the board.

The plan of Mr. Callahan, characterized as "instilling new blood" into the board of directors, was then opposed by the older and more conservative portion of the body, and it is this portion of the members who, it is understood, are actively behind the plan to bring about the repeal of the by-law.

Mr. Rudolph yesterday, in commenting upon the proposed amendment, said he felt confident he would not encounter much opposition this year to the repeal of the clause. He said it was an unreasonable restriction upon the service of a good man upon the board. He also said he had figured it out that this limiting clause really hampered the free choice of the body in the election of directors, and this he held was contrary to the American idea of free action in such bodies.

Mr. Rudolph stated that the purpose of the amendment was to break up the old custom of the board of trade in re-electing men who had served long in the directory. Under the rule as it now stands, John Joy Edson, A. P. Farmon, re-elected Greenleaf, George H. Harries, James B. Lambie, Crosby Noyes, Ellis Spear, and W. P. Van Winkle would retire from the directory and new members would be elected in their places. A majority of these men have served several successive terms as directors, and it is likely that some of them would be re-elected but for the rule adopted last year. It is understood to be the intention of the older members of the board of trade to repeal the by-law before the time for the annual election of directors.

Hold Autumn Meeting.
The autumn meeting of the Washington Congregational Club will be held at the First Church, Tenth and G streets northwest, to-morrow evening. The reception will take place in the church parlors, to be followed by a dinner at 6:30 o'clock. The principal after-dinner addresses will be delivered by Mr. George W. Alger, of the New York bar, and Dr. S. H. Woodrow, pastor of the First Church. Mr. Alger's articles on "American criminal law and discontent therewith" have attracted much attention.

FUND RAISED BY CHURCHMEN

Potomac Reformed Synod Is Pledged Over $1,500.

Thank Offering for Seventieth Anniversary of Foreign Mission Board Planned.

More than $1,500 was pledged toward the $70,000 thank offering to be made at the celebration of the seventieth anniversary of the board of foreign missions at the morning session of the Potomac Synod, of the Reformed Church of the United States, at Grace Church, Fifteenth and O streets northwest, yesterday.

The donations were made after a lengthy appeal to the delegates by A. R. Bartholomew, secretary of the board of foreign missions. Mr. Bartholomew said the funds collected were to be used by the missionaries in China and Japan.

Addresses were also made by Messrs. Levan, Krebs, and Pfeiffert on the question of obtaining young men to study for the ministry and the best method to be adopted to get them.

Miss Sarah L. Widener, superintendent of the Girls' School, at Sendai, Japan, addressed the afternoon session. Miss Widener told of the great progress made by the foreign schools through the association of the girls of different castes under Christian influences.

Services at the night session were conducted by Rev. W. E. Lampe and Mr. Allen K. Faust, lately returned missionaries from Japan.

The members of the synod enjoyed a trip to Mount Vernon between the morning and evening sessions. The following tailors were appointed for the election of officers: Revs. J. S. Heffner, H. L. G. Kieffer, J. W. Gilbach, and J. Freyer. The candidates are as follows:

Trustees of Catawba College (six to be elected for three years)—Rev. Dr. J. L. Murphy, Rev. Paul Burroughs, Rev. J. A. Feil, A. A. Shiford, George McCord, Dr. Banks McNairy, P. J. Leonard, H. J. W. A. Wolter, John Foster, Dr. S. H. Shiford, and C. C. Boat; (one to be elected for two years)—Rev. J. D. Andrew and Q. A. Wilfong.

Board of regents Mercersburg College (three to be elected for three years)—Rev. J. R. Shontz, Rev
